North Bundaberg StoryWalk

SELF-GUIDED HISTORY TRAIL

The StoryWalk is a locative storytelling and local history project. Snippets of North Bundaberg's history and its residents' memories have been captured and preserved as short, digital narratives that can be enjoyed in situ throughout the suburb.

Each marker on the map indicates the location of a QR or 'Quick Response' code that connects the digitised story with the physical location it features. QR codes are unique barcodes that can be read with free software called QR Readers. QR Readers can be downloaded onto your smartphone or iPad, then used to scan and view the StoryWalk stories. So, put on your walking shoes, grab your device and use the map to discover North Bundaberg's stories.

The North Bundaberg StoryWalk is a project initiated through the Place Activation Program funded by Bundaberg Regional Council and managed by Creative Regions Ltd.
